

PrivateExchangeSM

A PrivateAccess marketplace on theexchange
Expand your relationship opportunities while reducing management complexity

PrivateExchange enables service providers to access a broad base of potential partners to increase revenue opportunities, without incurring operational, administrative and technical inefficiencies from juggling too many carrier relationships and interconnections.

Manage Relationships Efficiently

PrivateExchange (PEX) is a centralized hub for managing bilateral arrangements and increasing capacity for overflow. As part of our PrivateAccess marketplace, PEX enables partnerships that bridge TDM to VoIP, geographic limitations, credit issues, and barriers of scale.

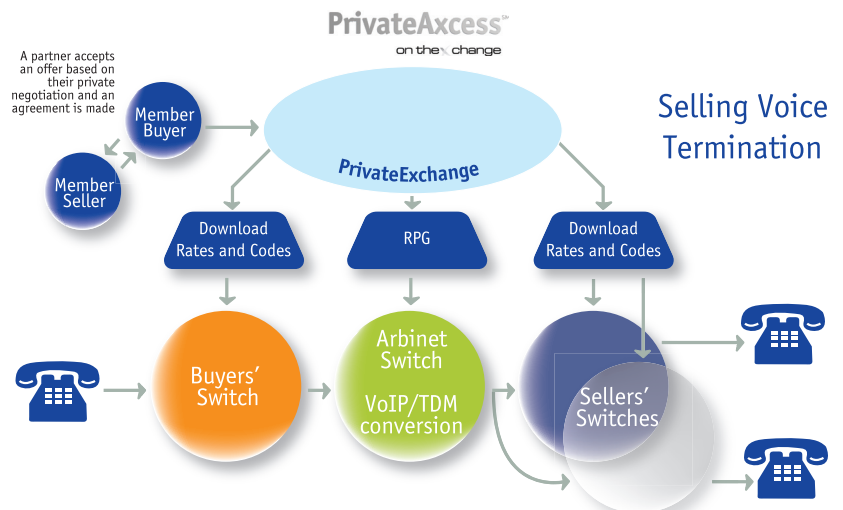

Leverage the Arbinet Platform

Using Arbinet's web-based platform, theexchange, carriers initiate direct, one-to-one connections with any carrier, Member or non-Member. PEX partners then discuss opportunities and negotiate prices.

Once terms have been established, Arbinet manages the costly back office operations including routing, reporting, credit risk, billing and settlement. The result is decreased time and resources spent on management functions.

Key Benefits

- Coordinate multiple interconnects and customer relationships with limited resources
- Manage trade agreements directly with partners even if they are not Arbinet Members
- Standardize terms and agreements with all partners and simplify code management
- Eliminate VoIP-TDM conversion issues
- Consolidate invoicing and payment to reduce collections and administrative costs
- Centralize credit management to eliminate bad debt
- Manage both international and US domestic terminations

Initiate direct, one-to-one connections with Arbinet Member and non-Member partners

Online Routing Reports

Real-time quality and alert management systems keep carriers abreast of quality and traffic changes. The routing manager provides the ability to make fast changes to routing configurations. Arbinet's Network Operations Center is available 24x7 to provide technical support for the platform.

Customized E-mail Alerts

PrivateExchange delivers customized email alerts to notify users immediately of any revenue-impacting activity, such as new offers, traffic patterns, quality issues, or cancellations.
